

Do you have a bushfire plan for your tourism business?

CFA's online module for tourism related business can help you understand your bushfire risk and develop a plan.

You and your staff are valuable sources of information for your visitors. Not all visitors will be aware of the fire risk, and they'll look to you for guidance.

Preparation is the key to protecting your employees, customer and business. Having a written plan can help you stay focused and respond when under pressure.

In this FREE 30 minute module you will learn how to:

Understand your local risk

Develop your businesses bushfire plan

Communicate to your customers

Prepare for the bushfire season

Where to get further information

"I loved the simplicity of the module; it provided so much useful information to help us revise our bushfire plan."
